Local

We love using local foods and will incorporate them as we can.

How do you know what's local?

Local items and ingredients are identified with dining room signage.

Food the Right Way

- We serve the freshest, healthiest and closest ingredients available.
- We use only as much as we need.
- We respect food and do not tolerate waste.
- We appreciate our resources: human and natural.

MG Menu

Our first Core Value is about Menus!

We want to be your favorite place to eat. We promise to put the love into the food so you leave saying, "that was just right!"

We designed our menus to be customizable without losing efficiencies. Our approach cues our staff to plan and serve balanced, variety-filled selections each day. It simplifies tasks and removes redundancies allowing more time for creativity, sourcing and you.

Chef Dude- a MG signature icon.

We believe in balance

For example, we believe you can have a little ice cream and a lot of apples. We know everyone's a little different and yet we want each guest, each day to enjoy nutritious, tasty meals. Offering a balanced variety is the key.

Things you can count on

Our menus incorporate these fundamental concepts: scratch cooking; local ingredients as available; seasonal trends; and balance of popular and healthful.

Navigating our menus

We communicate menus on at least a weekly basis and post our daily menu in a place convenient for you. We use symbols to identify items that are vegetarian, healthier choice and low fat.

▼ Vegetarian: Meat free (excludes anything that had a mother or a face, including seafood and poultry). Items marked as vegetarian may still be a good protein source like tofu, tempeh, soy product, beans, legumes, nuts, etc. We clearly identify items that are vegan with separate signage.

■ Healthier Choice: these are lower in fat (less than 5 grams saturated fat), cholesterol and sodium, or are higher in protein, fiber, vitamins and minerals. This is achieved through the foods themselves or through cooking styles. These items are also lower in calories:

- Entrees less than 350 calories
- Soups, salads, sides less than 250 calories
- Breads, desserts less than 230 calories

♥ Low Fat: these items contain less than 3 grams of fat.
